FILM SHOWINGS “The Cage” and “Sawreena”

The Cage- 52 minutes - Director Fathi A. Ali, 2003. A documentary about children in Al Ama'ari refugee camp (near Ramallah), this film shows Fathi A. Ali, director of this film, producer and playwright, working with the children on a theatre play. His plan is to do a play about the five senses, but the children suggest to do a play about their own lives, about the lives of children in Palestine under the occupation. This is a film of the truth of children, their experiences and their desire for a world and a nation free of its cage.

Sawreena - 20 minutes - Cairo to Camps, 2003. A view of Palestinian children's creativity and resilience in the Shatila and Bourj el-Barajneh refugee camps as filmed by an Arab students' delegation that worked with young people there.
